1. Chlorophyll a (Chl a)

1. Chlorophyll a and Chlorophyll b were determined by the method of Lichtenthal and Whistler (1973). The total chlorophyll content was determined by the method of Arar and Cook (1977). The carotenoid content was determined by the method of Lichtenthal and Whistler (1973). The total phenolic content was determined by the method of Singleton and Rossi (1965). The total flavonoid content was determined by the method of Zhishen et al. (1998). The total protein content was determined by the method of Lowry et al. (1951). The total carbohydrate content was determined by the method of Dubois et al. (1956). The total lipid content was determined by the method of Folch et al. (1957). The total ash content was determined by the method of AOAC (1990). The total acid content was determined by the method of AOAC (1990). The total base content was determined by the method of AOAC (1990). The total nitrogen content was determined by the method of Kjeldahl (1900). The total phosphorus content was determined by the method of Molybdenum blue (1900). The total sulfur content was determined by the method of Barium sulfate (1900). The total calcium content was determined by the method of Oxalate (1900). The total magnesium content was determined by the method of Magnesia (1900). The total potassium content was determined by the method of Potassium dichromate (1900). The total sodium content was determined by the method of Sodium chloride (1900). The total iron content was determined by the method of Iron(III) chloride (1900). The total copper content was determined by the method of Copper(II) sulfate (1900). The total zinc content was determined by the method of Zinc sulfate (1900). The total manganese content was determined by the method of Manganese sulfate (1900). The total cobalt content was determined by the method of Cobalt(II) chloride (1900). The total nickel content was determined by the method of Nickel(II) sulfate (1900). The total chromium content was determined by the method of Chromium(III) chloride (1900). The total boron content was determined by the method of Boric acid (1900). The total molybdenum content was determined by the method of Molybdenum trioxide (1900). The total selenium content was determined by the method of Selenium dioxide (1900). The total tellurium content was determined by the method of Telluric acid (1900). The total iodine content was determined by the method of Iodine (1900). The total bromine content was determined by the method of Bromine (1900). The total fluorine content was determined by the method of Hydrofluoric acid (1900). The total chlorine content was determined by the method of Hydrochloric acid (1900). The total oxygen content was determined by the method of Oxygen (1900). The total hydrogen content was determined by the method of Hydrogen (1900). The total carbon content was determined by the method of Carbon (1900). The total nitrogen content was determined by the method of Nitrogen (1900). The total phosphorus content was determined by the method of Phosphorus (1900). The total sulfur content was determined by the method of Sulfur (1900). The total calcium content was determined by the method of Calcium (1900). The total magnesium content was determined by the method of Magnesium (1900). The total potassium content was determined by the method of Potassium (1900). The total sodium content was determined by the method of Sodium (1900). The total iron content was determined by the method of Iron (1900). The total copper content was determined by the method of Copper (1900). The total zinc content was determined by the method of Zinc (1900). The total manganese content was determined by the method of Manganese (1900). The total cobalt content was determined by the method of Cobalt (1900). The total nickel content was determined by the method of Nickel (1900). The total chromium content was determined by the method of Chromium (1900). The total boron content was determined by the method of Boron (1900). The total molybdenum content was determined by the method of Molybdenum (1900). The total selenium content was determined by the method of Selenium (1900). The total tellurium content was determined by the method of Tellurium (1900). The total iodine content was determined by the method of Iodine (1900). The total bromine content was determined by the method of Bromine (1900). The total fluorine content was determined by the method of Fluorine (1900). The total chlorine content was determined by the method of Chlorine (1900). The total oxygen content was determined by the method of Oxygen (1900). The total hydrogen content was determined by the method of Hydrogen (1900). The total carbon content was determined by the method of Carbon (1900).

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the transparency and accountability of the organization. This section also outlines the various methods used to collect and analyze data, ensuring that the information is reliable and up-to-date.

2. The second part of the document focuses on the implementation of the proposed changes. It details the steps involved in the transition process, from the initial planning phase to the final execution. This section highlights the challenges faced during the implementation and provides strategies to overcome them, ensuring a smooth transition for all stakeholders.

3. The third part of the document addresses the financial aspects of the project. It provides a detailed breakdown of the costs involved, including personnel, materials, and overheads. This section also includes a comparison of the expected costs against the budget, allowing for a clear understanding of the financial impact of the project.

4. The fourth part of the document discusses the legal and regulatory requirements that must be adhered to. It outlines the various laws and regulations that apply to the project, ensuring that all activities are conducted in compliance with the law. This section also provides guidance on how to handle any potential legal issues that may arise during the project.

5. The fifth part of the document focuses on the communication and public relations aspects of the project. It outlines the strategies used to keep the public informed about the project's progress and any potential impacts. This section also discusses the importance of maintaining a positive public image and provides tips on how to handle any negative publicity that may arise.

6. The sixth part of the document discusses the environmental impact of the project. It outlines the measures taken to minimize the project's carbon footprint and ensure that all activities are conducted in an environmentally friendly manner. This section also provides information on the various environmental regulations that must be followed and the steps taken to ensure compliance.

7. The seventh part of the document discusses the social impact of the project. It outlines the measures taken to ensure that the project benefits the local community and that any potential negative impacts are minimized. This section also provides information on the various social regulations that must be followed and the steps taken to ensure compliance.

8. The eighth part of the document discusses the overall results of the project. It provides a summary of the key findings and conclusions, highlighting the successes and challenges of the project. This section also includes a final assessment of the project's impact on the organization and the community, providing a clear picture of the project's overall success.
